NEW FARMS MAY GAIN ALLOTMENTS, ACP OFFICE SAYS

For Acreage, Tobacco Must Have Been Grown on Land Once in 5 Years

COTTON IS ALSO INCLUDED IN OFFER

The Calloway county Agricultural Conservation Association announced today that farms which do not have tobacco allotments for 1940 may obtain an allotment if they make application with the committee by February 1 and provided they can present the following qualifications for their farm.

Tobacco must have been grown on the farm at least once during the last five years. The farm must have a barn or an accepted form of equipment for curing the weed. The farmer must have no interest in any other crop of tobacco of any kind anywhere, and farming must be his chief source of income.

According to B. W. Edmonds and Ollie Barnett who made the announcement, allotments already given cannot be increased. The concession deals only with those qualified farms which do not have allotments already established and on which cotton has not been grown since and including 1937.

The committee members declared that cotton growers whose farms do not have allotments established already, must make application with the committee by February 1 if they expect to grow cotton in 1940. All farms are eligible for this concession which do not have allotments already established and on which cotton has not been grown since and including 1937.

Murray Tobacco Market To Open Tuesday, January 9

C. C. Farmer, secretary of the Murray tobacco association, announced today that the Murray market will officially open on Tuesday, January 9. The market here was originally scheduled to open Wednesday of this week, but unfavorable weather conditions made that postponement necessary.

The Mayfield market tentatively set for opening Tuesday of this week was postponed indefinitely. Conditions of roads in the district since the rain and snow has created a hardship for growers in hauling their crops to market, and this fact plus the unfavorable handling season and the lack of buying interest at this time has caused the market postponement, it was said.

Fiscal Court to Oppose Changes In Trucking Laws

Goes on Record as Favoring
No Change in Existing Statutes

In its first meeting of 1940, the Calloway county fiscal court declared itself "unanimously opposed to any change in the Statutes of Kentucky regulating the lengths, weights, and load limit of trucks now operating on and over our highways and hereby request our Senator and Representative to work for and vote against any change in Statutes already existing."

It based its argument on the contention that roads in Calloway county and the district "would be greatly jeopardized as well as the life and safety of the average motorist."

The magistrate authorized John W. Clifton county judge to borrow on its behalf $1,400 at 6 per cent interest, the sum to be paid out of the anticipated revenue from 1939-1940 year.

The court accepted the report of the condition of the treasury given by Treasurer Frances Section, and also approved the report of Mary Russell Williams on the 1940 budget appropriation.

Native shrubs are being planted by McLean county homesteaders interested in landscaping.

We Extend Our Low Subscription Offer

Due to the delayed opening of the Tobacco Market and the fact that many farmers and others did not have the ready cash right at Holiday time the Ledger & Times has decided to continue the special circulation offer of two years for $1 for both new or renewal subscriptions. This offer will positively end by the Fourth Monday in March, and every one is urged to take advantage of this unusual offer.

This rate applies only to Calloway, Marshall, Graves, and Trigg counties in Kentucky and Henry and Stewart counties in Tennessee. When you realize that this is the greatest newspaper circulation offer in the United States, less than 1 cent per week for Kentucky's Most Progressive Weekly Newspaper, we feel sure you will come in right away and take advantage of it—like hundreds of your neighbors and friends did during the month of December. Don't forget this offer applies to both new and renewal subscriptions, and expires Fourth Monday in March.

Ollie L. Boren Moves to Paducah Railroad Post

Ollie L. Boren for the past twenty-five years freight and passenger agent for the N.C.&St.L. Railroad here in Murray has been transferred to Paducah where he will be joint freight agent for the N.C.&St.L. Railroad, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. His office at Paducah will be Third and Washington streets.

Ollie, as he is known in Murray, has been with the N.C. for 33 years starting with the road in his old home town of Lexington, Tenn. He was graduated from Lexington High School, and later attended what is now known as Union College at Jackson, Tenn. for three years.

Ollie is a member of the Local Murray Lodge Number 105, F.&A.M., and order of railway Telegraphers, and the Baptist Church.

His outstanding community service has been in his Rotary Club work, as he has been secretary of the local club since its founding 15 years ago, and largely through his efforts the club has grown to the point it has today.

His many friends of years standing regret seeing him leave Murray, but are wishing him success in his new position.

Five Officials Take Offices For New Terms Monday

Five public officials who in some way or another hold positions affecting Calloway county residents either assumed or resumed their offices Monday.

They were Pink Curd, representative, who succeeded C. A. Hale, and left for Paducah Tuesday to sit in the General Assembly; V. A. "Bill" Phillips, Senator, who succeeds T. O. Turner, also left for Frankfort to sit in the General Assembly; Otis Lovins, circuit court clerk, succeeding Claude L. Miller; George Hart, who resumed his post as master commissioner; and John C. Kinsler, who resumed his capacity as commonwealth's attorney.

It is hard to express in words the true appreciation of the many kindnesses and favors bestowed upon me as co-publisher and editor of the Ledger & Times during the past two years. The people of Murray and Calloway county have been especially kind to me and my family during the time we have been in Murray, for which we are exceedingly grateful.

May I take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you for your generous and continued support both personally and in a business way during this time.

Under the leadership of your new editor, Waylon Rayburn, and R. R. Melan, co-publisher, the Ledger & Times, I know, will reach greater heights in service to you. Upon relinquishing the editorship of the paper, it is my earnest desire that you continue your loyal support to the paper as you have in the past. Newspapers today are public utilities, created to serve, and the more you cooperate with them, the more they will be able to serve you. May I ask your continued cooperation in every way possible to my successors.

My heart will always be for the progress of Murray and Calloway county, and in my humble way I have attempted to be your true and faithful servant. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I feel like I can count every reader and subscriber of this paper, my true and faithful friend. To each of you individually I want to express my personal appreciation of your support. At all times I have tried to be tolerant of the feelings of every one of you, and have tried to serve you to the best of my ability.

To the advertisers and business supporters of the Ledger & Times, I want to express my further appreciation of your patronage, and ask that you continue your fine cooperation with the paper, and in my capacity as advertising manager I shall strive to please you and serve you in a better degree than in the past.

The history of the newspaper business in Murray during the last four decades largely has been the history of the Melan family. To R. R. Melan, who has been my partner and business associate in conducting the Ledger & Times, I want to publicly express my appreciation, for no association with any man could be more pleasant or cordial, both in a personal and business way, than mine with him. All of us have many friends, but we all have a few friends who are real close to us, and to whom we look for advice on all momentous occasions. Such a one has Raleigh been to me. The association between us shall always be remembered as one of the most pleasant experiences of my life. His name shall always be synonymous with the progress of the press in Murray and Calloway county. Raleigh deserves the continued support of every citizen of Murray and Calloway county. A member of the Great Fourth Estate, his family, and especially her, belong to that inner circle of the newspaper fraternity, who have always stood for fairness, squareness and honesty in all things.

Sincerely yours,

Murray Netters Ready for Vandy

Play Southeast Missouri Tonight
at Cape; Commodore
Saturday

Forced to stay on the campus by snow, Murray State College's basketball team spent Tuesday and Wednesday in goal-shooting and scrimmaging practice, and Coach Carlisle Cutchin watched them with pleasure as they executed intricate plays to good advantage.

The Thoroughbred journey to Cape Girardeau, Mo., tonight to oppose Southeastern Missouri State, a team they defeated 48-41 three weeks ago here, and return Saturday night to be host to Vandy.

It is to this game that Murray fans are looking forward with the hope that the Southeastern Conference squad will furnish opposition which will test the Thoroughbreds to the utmost.

We'd like to beat Vanderbilt," Coach Cutchin said today, "but there's no denying the sledging will be tough."

Since Ned Washer, high-standing center, has gained his eye for the net to supplement the basket work of Colby, McKee, and others, Coach Cutchin's squad may even surprise him and take the game from Vandy. Anyway, college officials are expecting the largest crowd of the season Tuesday for the tussle, provided roads are clear of snow by that time.

Rob Mason Home Destroyed by Fire

Also Burns

Fire Sunday night destroyed the home of Dr. Rob Mason, prominent Murray physician, representing a loss estimated at $10,000. The building was a total loss, and all contents were destroyed. It was particularly covered by insurance.

A blinding snowstorm contributed to the inconvenience of delivery of the fire department. The fire was believed to have caught from the stove.

At noon Sunday, the residence of Mrs. Susan Ahart burned in College Addition, causing an estimated loss of $2,000. Most of the contents of the house were saved. Insurance partially covered the loss.

Lovett retired from active editorship.

Mr. Neal has been very active in community affairs since coming to Murray in October 1937. He has been active in the reorganization of the Murray Chamber of Commerce, in helping promote the Calloway County Fair, in the activities of the Murray Rotary Club and its service program, and in the work of the Young Men's Business Club. He is a member of the First Christian church and has been interested in every community project.

He is vice-president of the West Kentucky Press Association.

Mr. Rayburn, who has been a news editor and editorial writer for the paper since October 1937, and was previously assistant to Mr. Lovett, did not announce his plans.

He is a graduate of Murray State College, where he was an honor graduate after earning his college expenses. He also did graduate work at the University of Kentucky. Mr. Rayburn was a member of the faculty of Benton High School from 1930 to 1934 and also served as Calloway county's representative in the General Assembly in the 1934 session and subsequent sessions.

New Editor's Statement

In assuming the duties as editor of The Murray-Ledger & Times, "Your Home Newspaper, for Over 57 Years," I am mindful of the increasing responsibilities that must be discharged by the person serving in this capacity.

During this long period of acceptable public service, The Murray-Ledger & Times has developed tradition and established high standards which not only must not be lowered, but developed and carried on to higher levels.

Because the successful publication of a newspaper demands that the editor possess certain attributes such as good character, honesty, and fairness and as the percentage, education, past work and experience of a person indicate the possession or lack of possession of these traits, you are entitled to a statement of intimate facts concerning your editor.

As I was born and reared here, educated in local institutions from the first grade through the fourth year of college, and have known a great number of you intimately for the most of my life, I have no hesitancy in submitting these personal facts.

I am the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rayburn, (father deceased), born and reared about two miles east of Alto. The grandson of the late John Mahan, the great grandson of Levi B. Lee (deceased) pioneer Methodist preacher who migrated from North Carolina, came to Calloway county in 1846, settled in the Wadesboro section and there assisted in the early development of that part of the county. He contributed very definitely in populating that district for he was the father of twelve children, eleven of them surviving the perils of infancy and youth and enjoyed large families of their own. As an added indication of the sturdiness of this family, six of these children are still living and are hale and hearty, although, the youngest one is sixty-two years of age.

I finished two years of high school at Alto (Almo was a junior high school at this time) passed the teachers examination, was granted a teaching certificate and taught Bethel, Pottersville, and Outland schools under the able leadership of Robert E. Broach, county superintendent at that time. I finished high school in the Training School after Murray College was established, and by working during summers and through securing a loan now and then from the bank, I graduated from Murray College with the B.A. degree in 1930. After graduation, I secured a job in the Benton High School, to teach social science subjects and coach debate under the capable superintendency of Prof. Tullus A. Chambers, another Calloway boy.

I resigned my teaching job in Benton in 1934 to serve in the State Legislature as the Representative from Calloway. At the conclusion of the 34 legislative session, I was appointed to the position of Supervisor in the field of Special Education, by Dr. James H. Richmond who was at that time State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in which I have continued until the present time, resigning to become the editor of "Your Home Newspaper."

While teaching in Benton, I was married to Miss Mary Ely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ely, Benton, Ky. We have one son, John Michael. I have one brother, Raymon Rayburn, who married Miss Lonnie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon White, Hazel, Ky. They have one daughter, Betty, and reside in Detroit, Mich., at present. Also, one sister, Mary Nell Rayburn, who lives with my mother on East Main Street here in Murray.

I have attended summer school in the University of Kentucky during the past five years and completed almost enough work for the M.A. degree. In addition, I have had several Post Graduate Courses in the School of Hard Knocks, as those who have known me all the way through can readily attest.

Visitors and newcomers to Murray and Calloway county are always deeply impressed with the religious atmosphere that pervades our loving, church-going people. Born and reared in this favorable atmosphere, I became a member of Elm Grove church early in life, transferring my membership to Murray Baptist church upon moving to Murray where I have endeavored to be as active and regular in attendance as my work and home conditions would permit. I was for six years president of the Baraca Bible class.

Because of my faith in the continued growth and progress of Murray and Calloway county, and my desire to live among you, and work with you, I built a home a year and half ago on the corner of Tenth and Olive Streets.

In editing your paper, and we want you to feel that it is your paper, our chief aim shall always be complete and impartial service to all groups and classes of citizens. We shall support, with every ounce of energy and influence we possess, every worthwhile and progressive movement for Murray and Calloway county.

No doubt we shall make errors, for we are human, but in these we beg your indulgence and invite your advice and constructive criticism. We earnestly ask your loyal and sincere support to the end that we may merit existence and continued growth. With an abiding faith in the people of Calloway county, and with the ambition to make you a worthy servant, we begin our job with joy and confidence; joy in the privilege we shall have to work with the finest people in the world, and confidence because we know that you will keep faith with us if we keep faith with you.

Stormy Sessions Face Assemblies

Both State and National Bodies
Convene; Johnson Says
No New Taxes

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 4.—Gov. Keen Johnson asked Kentucky's General Assembly today to provide a six-day week for workers and to strengthen labor mediation laws. He urged "that a policy of rigid economy in appropriations be followed to the end that progress in the widened scope of state services may be maintained and yet a sound financial condition of the state treasury be assured."

"No new general taxes need be enacted," he declared in his message prepared for the opening of the 1940 session.

We must avoid an increase in general taxes by making adjustments in existing tax laws," he explained, "strengthening these tax measures so as to assure provision of the money with which to meet the state's minimum needs."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Administration leaders abandoned hope tonight that the 1940 pre-election session of Congress which convened yesterday, might be short and comparatively harmonious.

A review of the hot domestic issues which must be settled—amendment of the Labor Relations Act, relief appropriations, the reciprocal tariff program, the wage-hour law amendments—forced them reluctantly to conclude that peace between the parties and between fighting Democratic factions would be difficult, if not impossible, to maintain.

when I did not like to go to school. I worked evenings, mornings and holidays to pay board and manage to go to public and private schools until I obtained a certificate to teach. Then I went to school in the spring and taught in the fall until I was through school. Many friends assisted me, some of them extending credit even for board. I still believe that energy, industry, honesty and determination will enable any boy or girl to get by in this old world.

When he old darky said "The Lord helps them who help themselves," he spoke as wisely as if he had been a Solomon. It may be hard on the bleeding for the youth of the present day than it was in my day, but it can still be done. It is being done now. Let no one say it can not until he or she has tried. "Somebody said it couldn't be done." But he with a purpose replied, "That maybe it couldn't, but I would be one."

"Somebody said it couldn't be done." But he with a purpose replied, "That maybe it couldn't, but I would be one."

So he buckled right in with a bang of a grin
On his face. If he worried he hid it;
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done and he did it.
Somebody scoffed: 'Oh you'll never do that,
At least no one ever has done it!
But he took off his coat and he took off his hat
And he stuck to the job as he tackled it.

And the first thing we knew he'd begun it!
With a lift of his chin and a bit
a grin
Without any doubting or quib-diting—
He started to sing as he tackled
the thing
That couldn't be done—and he did it.
There are thousands to tell you
it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy
our failure.

There are thousands to tell you one by one
The dangers that wait to assault
you;
But just buckle right in with a bit of a grin,
Just take off your coat and go to it;
Just start to sing as you tackle the thing
That couldn't be done and you do it."

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—LOOKING BOTH WAYS—This first month of our year is named January after Janus, an ancient Roman god, who as deity over gates and doors, was represented with two opposite faces. So at the new year, it's quite in order to look backward and forward, a practice that has become traditional with business and industrial leaders who at this season sum up the old and forecast for the new year.

Throughout the year this column endeavors to interpret the business news trends, week by week and month by month, as they may be expected to affect prospects of the bulker and baker, the dry goods merchant, the furniture man, the farmer, the auto salesman and other units of the economic life of the American community. But since the prosperity of all these is indissolubly governed by the outlook for the major industries—the economic laws regarding buying power being what they are—let us summarize some of the year-end statements of leaders in key industries.

STEEL—Walter S. Tower, executive secretary, American Iron and Steel Institute.

"During the closing months of 1939 the production of steel in the United States rose to new heights for all time. For the year as a whole the output is estimated at 46,800,000 gross tons, compared with 28,200,000 in 1938 and 50,316,000 gross tons in 1937.

While the average rate of operations for the first two quarters was little better than 50 per cent of capacity, it rose to 62.2 in the third quarter and to an estimated 91.2 per cent. The year was only one of the many in the expansion of steel production. Two specific causes of rise was great volume of automobile production in last quarter, and the unexpectedly large increase in demand from railroads. No evidence has appeared that inventories of steel are being increased beyond reasonable levels relative to current uses.

CHEMICALS—Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., president, Freepoint Sulphur Company.

"For the new year there are indications that chemistry's impressive showing of 1939 will be surpassed. It is estimated that expenditures for new plants and plant extensions in the chemical industry will total over $100,000,000 in 1940, which would be more than a 100 per cent increase over the $50,000,000 spent in 1939. This growing magnitude of industrial chemistry is reflected in shipments of sulphur, which in 1939 were the highest in history. One of the most important developments of the year has been focusing of attention on raw material supplies. Fortunately, the situation so far as sulphur is concerned has altered greatly since 1914. Whereas 25 years ago the U. S. was dependent to a considerable degree upon foreign sources, today we are completely independent, a transition which represents another step toward national security attributable to the engineering skill and initiative of private industry.

INSURANCE—Holgar J. Johnson, president, Institute of Life Insurance.

"By the end of 1940 approximately $116,000,000,000 (billions) worth of life insurance will be in force. The rise in insurance subscriptions is attributable to the natural desire of Americans for security—a desire that has been intensified by increasing attention focused upon the whole subject of economic security in recent years. During 1940 approximately $3,000,000,000 (billions) will be paid out in modest amounts to individuals in virtually every city and town in America. These funds, together with those paid in to insurance companies in the form of premiums, will find their way into the financing of business, industry and agriculture, thereby helping to promote employment."

GLASS—John D. Biggers, president, Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company.

"There are encouraging signs that in the year ahead the flat glass industry will surpass the average level of activity for the last 10 years. Demand for all types of glass is increasing, and higher, as there are reasons to believe that its two biggest markets—automobile and home building—are going to be very active. The forward march of the automotive industry is being aided by the fact that the building department which must come will surely be featured by the widest areas and most varied uses of glass which construction has ever known. We in the industry are thinking in terms of interior frontiers; that is, the interior improvement of cities by rehabilitation of old business districts."

ALUMINUM—George R. Gibbons, vice-president, Aluminum Company of America.

"Total sales volume in 1939 was the largest in the company's history. The year was abnormal because of the unusual demand for aluminum, which was abroad contributed to the demand for aluminum; nevertheless, continued increase in domestic consumption of the metal for the widening range of products in which it serves everyday needs may indicate another good year in 1940. Expectation of lower costs and a 1939 widely announced $26,000,000 expansion program led the company recently to re-state that the better part of 1939 was a year of development and development will be shared with consumers of aluminum. The company has announced that it will not increase its domestic prices for aluminum ingot during the first quarter of 1940."

DISTRIBUTION—John Hartford, president, Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

"Heavy industries were not alone in enjoying better business during the old year. Consumer industries recorded substantial gains, with retail sales rising more than six per cent. Gains scored in general retail trade were outdistanced by those in chain stores, which advanced approximately 10 per cent. We may credit four developments in the chains' position. These developments, which created clearer recognition in chain stores and the public they serve of a strong community of interest, were: greater public realization of the chains' true place in the national economy; further price reductions through super-marketing; improved efficiency of chains as farm produce marketing machine through greater emphasis on drive-in to move surplus crops; and contributions to standard of living of wage-earners in the form of higher wages and lower living costs."

AUTOMOBILES—M. M. Gilman, president, Packard Motor Car Company.

"The automobile industry produced in 1939 approximately 45 per cent more automobiles than in 1938. We are looking for an increase of at least 10 per cent in 1940, and after we have obtained a good start into the new year we may find that we have far underestimated the potential."

Stella Gossip

I am thankful that 1939 is past because I can't make a figure. Neither can I write the "and-so-forth" sign. An old man told me he did not know a single letter in the alphabet. Then I made a round mark in the dust, the letter "O". That she did get his goat.

Spence Hackett was born May 30 and Crossland Overbey was born May 31, 1872, about 68 years ago. Twins bejabers. Yes and no. Stella Gossip and Jim Cochran were born Jan. 10, 1863, during the Civil war, but they have buried the hatchet and are going to be very active. The forward march of the automotive industry is being aided by the fact that the building department which must come will surely be featured by the widest areas and most varied uses of glass which construction has ever known. We in the industry are thinking in terms of interior frontiers; that is, the interior improvement of cities by rehabilitation of old business districts."

Many long years ago, John Fawcett and wife and children decided to move far away. Their neighbors gathered in and persuaded John to take off wagon sheet, unload and not move away. Then it was that he composed the old hymn "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love." I have known families to move far away. But for tears, I could not see.

Will H. Whittell, our efficient rural mail carrier on Route 1, had so much Christmas mail to distribute that he passed here at couple o'clock p. m. on December 22. I'd done give him out for good. Last summer he saw the farmers plowing under the burning sky of the June noonday sun as he sailed gracefully by. Every dog has his day, even the ground hog.

To know a "model young man" total abstainer of tobacco, whiskey, does not use profane or indecent language; can walk gracefully as the Prince of Wales; handsome as the King of diamonds; highly educated and his character hitherto unblemished.

The only new resolution for 1940 is a negative. That is "Fret not because of evil doers. Fretting, kicking, and growling will cause incurable sickness, wrinkles, premature gray hairs and eventually premature death. Fretting is contagious, like leprosy. Fretting would make you a walking corpse. And fretting never would cause bread and meat to be cheaper. Yes and parents should be seen, and not heard."

Have you seen that infant that was born January 1st? It turned out to be a "gal" and her aspirations are commendable. Her name was Prince Nineteen Hundred and Forty. —Eagle

We are really having winter weather now but after the beautiful fall we shouldn't grumble. I hope everyone a prosperous and happy New Year.

We sympathize with all who have lost their loved ones and homes. We really know about the home losing as we went through that trial last Christmas Eve. Just hope each one of you that got burned out had the faithful friends we did.

We have lost a good friend and neighbor since our last writing—Lennie Hargis. He will be sadly missed by the whole community. Lots of colds and sore throats, but most all the children were able to start back to school.

The holidays were spent in visiting by quite a few. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vickers and family had as their Christmas Day guests Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Vickers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Vickers and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Evans and children, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Boatwright all of Gilbertsville; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Davis and children of Calvert City; Mr. and Mrs. Euel Donohoo and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stom, Oille Stom, Mrs. Mabel Stom and children visited Earl Stom who is still in the hospital at Outwood. We hope he will soon be able to return home. Mr. and Mrs. William Grubbs of Paris, Tenn., visited homefolks Christmas Eve.

They may even satisfy themselves that there is no hereafter, but nevertheless they fail to recognize that they will never be able to escape the real penalty. Hazel was the only county team which played during the holidays, losing to Birmingham of Marshall county by a small score.

Murray Training School is in the lead in county standings with five victories against one defeat, while Murray High school with two victories and no defeats will soon have played enough games to be placed in the picture. Lynn Grove and Hazel rank next in order.

Extension School To Last Two Days

University of Kentucky Profs to Conduct Studies on February 8-9

An extension school in agriculture will be conducted on the campus of Murray State College February 8-9, with the University of Kentucky cooperating with the county agent's department and the local farm office said Tuesday.

Speakers who will conduct the school will be George Roberts, in charge of soils and crops; W. W. Magill, in charge of fruits; W. M. Landis, of the Tennessee Valley Authority agricultural relations division who will discuss general farm economy; Fordyce Ely, who will conduct the dairy studies; Wayland Rhodes, who will lead the studies on beef cattle; J. E. Humphreys, who will devote his time to the teaching of poultry raising. All except Landis are from the University of Kentucky.

County Agent J. T. Cochran, who made the announcement, declared all farmers of the county will be invited to attend the school. At that time, he said, certificates of honor will be given to farmers who have made the cover crop honor roll—a select list composed of those men who have sowed all their 1939 cultivated land to cover crops. Eighty-seven are now on the list, but Cochran hopes for 100 by the time the scrolls are given out.

A final check-up shows that use of phosphate increased hay yields in Powell county by 50 to 75 per cent.

Hoffman Pallbearers Are Announced Today

Pallbearers at the funeral of Roy Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hoffman, who was buried Christmas Day, were: Active—Robert Johnson, Carlton Outland, Pat Covington, Paul Johnson, Rob Bradley, and George Folks.

Honorary, E. J. Trail, P. W. Ordway, Dr. G. B. Pennebaker, Price Doyle, Fred Gingles, Clifton Thurman, Carmon Graham, R. A. Johnston, Dr. J. H. Richmond, Dr. J. W. Carr, Boody Russell, Dr. Charles Hise, Jim Strader, Guy Gardner, Carlisle Cutchin, Dr. A. M. Wolfson, G. C. Ashcraft, Lloyd Albritton, all of Murray, and J. F. Grant and Sidney Snodgrass, Paducah.

Through an error, the headline on the story concerning Hoffman's death read "Robert Hoffman," which was Roy Hoffman.

Byrd's Creek Chatter

No, we don't have eight chimneys to our hut as does the White House, and neither did we have a turkey to carve as does President Roosevelt every Christmas. Although we have little, all this year we have enjoyed our Christmas dinner. Do wish all the children could have been together as we were the 22nd of October on mother's birthday.

Mrs. Lula Moody, Mrs. Maud Champion and boys, Boyd, Flenoy, and Bill of Knight, Ky. Mrs. Bernice Steele, Mrs. Lee Lyons and children, Fonta Gray and Russell, were Christmas dinner guests of the Byrds. Of course, where mother is it is natural for kids and "grand-kids" to gather in—and do I enjoy it!

Flenoy Champion, TVA employee at Gilbertville, says they are getting along nicely with work down there.

Mrs. Louise Gibbs' Christmas program was splendid Friday afternoon. I really do enjoy hearing each child speak its part. The Christmas tree was beautiful, and all the children and grown ups too seemed to have the Christmas spirit of giving some one a little gift. Don't think anyone was slighted.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brigham have moved to Clarksville, Tenn. So the new neighbors are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and girls, Frances and Daphne. We are glad to have Frank and Daphne and the girls as neighbors.

Johnny Crutcher has moved up on Robert Robertson's place. Mrs. Maggie Phillips is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson. Mrs. Phillips' husband, Joe Phillips, died at Mason's hospital after having had been there the past seven months. He was buried near his homeplace. "Uncle Joe" will be missed by all us folks around here.

Whooping, cough is raging around here and we are all afraid to take our wee one out so guess our time will be spent during Christmas at home. So come on over to Tennessee, Joe! Big Mack, Julian, and children, that is if you don't have whooping cough.

Here and there, please tell us poor folks where we are to land, with chickens down to 8 cents, hogs no price at all, and every thing you buy timing higher all the time. It is a problem I just cannot solve. Course I know it is a problem to you also for I am sure you don't raise corn yourself. I might be guessing wrong.

But right here I guess I will park until another day—"Red" Editor's Note: One consolation, Red, we'll probably all land up together. No, we don't raise corn, but we have to raise corn occasionally.)

Terry Jones, Johnson county, has installed a deep well water pump and complete water system in his house.

Many Daviess county farmers built tobacco presses for use on the 1939 crop.

U. S. Court Denies Jury Trials For T.V.A. Judgments

Declares Right of Condemning Property is Upheld By Constitution

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit sitting at Cincinnati has denied landowners' claims for trial by jury of the value of their farms condemned by the TVA for Norris Reservoir. The Court followed the argument of William C. Pitts, Jr., General Counsel, and H. James Hitching, Assistant General Counsel of the Authority, in holding that suits by the Authority to condemn land are not of such a character that a trial by jury is required of the most productive. In its opinion by Circuit Judge Elwood Hamilton, the court ruled that the detailed procedure provided by the TVA Act guaranteed the landowners the full protection to which the Constitution entitles them and that no jury trial was required.

In the three cases decided, Tennessee Valley Authority v. Sam Welch and wife, TVA v. James A. Lewis et al., the Circuit Court of Appeals sustained the valuation put upon the farms by a special statutory three-judge court composed of District Judges Taylor and Martin and the late Judge Gore, which had in turn confirmed the awards made by three commissioners. The Court, denying the appeal of attorneys for the landowners for an increased valuation based on a capitalization of the income of the most productive acres of the farms condemned: The opinion said: "Anticipated profits from any business, especially farming, are too uncertain and speculative in character to be of much weight in determining farm values."

The Court concluded that the burden of proof on appeal rested on the landowners and that they had failed to show any valid grounds for changing the valuations set by the special three-judge court.

Dr. Newton Sharpe Dies in Kansas City
